

CHURCHES AND THEIR WORKERS—RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES OF ALL DENOMINATIONS

PRESBYTERIANS TO DISCUSS THE HOME MISSION PROBLEM

Leaders of Denomination Will Speak at Sessions Next Monday in Calvary Church.

For the first time in its history the Presbytery of Philadelphia has set aside an entire afternoon and evening for the consideration of the city mission problems. Next Monday, with some of the most prominent leaders of the Presbyterian Church in America in attendance, expert speakers will discuss various phases of city mission work at sessions to be held in the afternoon and evening in Calvary Presbyterian Church, 15th and Locust streets.

NORTH PHILADELPHIA INSTITUTE SUCCESSFUL

Under Leadership of C. O. St. John Y. M. C. A. School Aids Many Young Men.

C. O. ST. JOHN

Under the direction of C. O. St. John, who recently came to this city to take charge of the educational work of the North Branch Young Men's Christian Association, rapid strides are being made for the education of the working boys of North Philadelphia, who desire to improve their chances in life through spare time study.

A. J. DREXEL BIDDLE TO BE GIVEN RECEPTION

Northwest Philadelphia Bible Class Leader to Honor Founder Tonight. A. J. Drexel Biddle, founder of the Drexel Biddle Bible classes, will be given a reception at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Redemption, 6th and Market streets, this evening by the officers of the classes in the Northwest Philadelphia District.

CHURCH IS 25 YEARS OLD

St. Elizabeth's Protestant Episcopal Parish was incorporated in 1889. The 25th anniversary of the incorporation of St. Elizabeth's Protestant Episcopal parish will be observed tomorrow in connection with the Patronal Feast. The charter was obtained in 1889, and the late Rev. Dr. Henry R. Percival was elected the first rector.

PROMINENT PREACHER HERE

The Rev. Dr. H. C. Morrison, President of Asbury College, at Old St. George's.

Those who attend the morning and evening sessions of the 25th annual holiness convention in Old St. George's Methodist Episcopal Church, 4th street below Vine, tomorrow will be privileged to hear one of the best known clergymen of the old-school type in the Methodist Episcopal Churches in this country.

Y. M. C. A. MEETINGS

Speakers for Y. M. C. A. meetings tomorrow afternoon have been announced as follows: Central Branch, Dr. A. C. Abbott, of the University of Pennsylvania; on "The Scientific Basis of Health and Sanitation"; Germantown Branch, the Rev. Howard A. Mueser, a returned missionary from India, now in charge of the committee on preliminary meetings for the "Big" Sunday evangelistic campaign; Prof. Calvin G. Altshouse, of the Central High School, at the West Branch, on "Life's Dualism."

The Friendly Path

Idleness probably causes more unhappiness than anything else in the world.

Many a man, whose intentions were once of the best, has become a victim of criminal pursuits because he has had no worthwhile duties to occupy his mind.

Thousands of men have become chronic pessimists, who make life miserable for everybody about them, because they have been left to drift along with the crowd, instead of being busy creating ideas that would have contributed to progress.

In almost every church men are found who take delight in finding fault with the services, the music, and practically everything that is done. Every clergyman realizes, with regret, that this is true.

Certainly some of the "kickers" are so pessimistic that there is little chance of changing their attitude toward the church work. But these are the exceptions. Most of the critics have the right kind of stuff in them to make their marks if they are put to work at some definite thing that will keep them busy.

Dr. Russell H. Conwell, the educator, clergyman and lecturer, was once heard to remark: "I always welcome the 'kickers' in my church. Whenever a man complains about something, I try to give him a job on a committee that has charge of the thing he criticizes. And I have found that if we keep the critics busy trying to build up they will not be tearing down."

CATHEDRAL WILL HAVE FINE MEMORIAL TO ARCHBISHOP

Handsome Marble Altar in Edifice Planned for Late Prelate.

A handsome and unique marble altar is to be placed in the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul in memory of the late Archbishop Ryan. The memorial is of ancient Celtic-Romanesque style of architecture. In working out the details the artist was guided and inspired by famous Celtic art, such as the ancient carved, high stone crosses, the bronze and other "push-and-pull" instead of experiencing the regrets from the harm that can always be charged up against "kicks" and "knocks." RELIGIOUS BREVITIES

There will be baptism at the morning service at the Resurrection Temple tomorrow. The hour for the evening service will be changed to 7:45. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, will preach both morning and evening.

Rabbi Dr. Henry Berkowitz, of the Congregation Rodeph Shalom, will speak on the subject "Is Religion on Trial?" in the pulpit of Rabbi C. A. Rubenstein, in Baltimore, tomorrow.

The Rev. Dr. N. Durall, pastor of the Evangelical Church in Sofia, Bulgaria, and president of the Bulgarian Alliance of the United States, will speak on "The Present War in the Light of the Balkan War" at the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening. His address will be under the auspices of the Peace and Arbitration Commission of the Federal Council of Churches of America.

The Rev. William Muir Auld, the pastor, will preach on "City Missions" at the noon service at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Redemption, 6th and Market streets, tomorrow morning. At the midweek service on Wednesday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, Mr. Auld will speak on "Ventures of Faith."

The Rev. Dr. Harvey Wood, of New York, temperance secretary of the Northern Baptist convention, will preach in St. Luke and the Epiphany, in Philadelphia, tomorrow morning, and the evening sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. John Gordon, the pulpit supply.

The Rev. E. S. Littell, pastor of the West United Presbyterian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on "Adorning the Temple," and in the evening his subject will be "Why Are Prayers Unanswered?" Henry W. Lewis will lead a special song service in the evening, when "Bible" Sunday songs will be sung.

Beginning tomorrow evening with a sermon by the Rev. Dr. David M. Steele, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany, in the House of Prayer, Branchtown, there will be a series of evening sermons by special preachers during the ensuing six weeks.

The Rev. James Ramsey Swain, pastor of the Woodland Presbyterian Church, will preach tomorrow evening on "The Revival Led by St. Francis of Assisi," and in the morning on "The Great Revivals of History." J. E. McAfee, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, will preach in the morning at 10 o'clock, and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, on "Home Missions and the Public Welfare."

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sayre will celebrate the 13th anniversary of their conversion to Christ tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Geddes Mission. There will be a quartet with the Rev. William H. Minter, and William H. Young and his quartet will sing. The Rev. William T. Bamford and George O. McCreary will speak.

The Rev. Dr. Sheldon Hanson Griswold, bishop of the Missionary District of the Southern United States, will preach at the Church, Locust street, above 15th, tomorrow morning. Bishop Griswold is well known in this city.

At the Norris Square United Presbyterian Church the pastor, the Rev. Lee B. Rife, will preach tomorrow morning on "Assurance," and in the evening on "Characteristics of the Holy Spirit." The latter subject will be the first of a series on the reign of sin.

At the Church of the Redeemer, the Rev. August E. Barnett will preach tomorrow morning on "Can We Be Sure of God?" in the evening his subject is to be "Savannah," the glorious Outcast will be music by a large chorus choir. Dr. J. Berg Esenwein will address the Men's Bible Class at 1:30 o'clock on "Choosing an Ancestor."

"Is a World Religion Possible?" will be the topic for discussion at the Grand Avenue Unitarian Church tomorrow evening. When the chief speaker will be the Rev. Charles Wendte, of Boston, the secretary of the International Council of Religious Liberals.

The annual "at home" day for old members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal Mariners' Bethel Church will be observed tomorrow, the Rev. John A. Duncan will lead an experience meeting at 8:15 in the afternoon, and in the evening the Rev. Samuel McWilliams will preach.

There will be a grand concert in the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church next Thursday evening.

OLD HOLY TRINITY GERMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH AND LEGENDARY BURIAL PLACE OF EVANGELINE

OLD HOLY TRINITY SOON TO OBSERVE 125TH BIRTHDAY

German Catholic Church, Overshadowing Grave of Evangeline, Is Oldest in Philadelphia.

Elaborate plans are being made by the Rev. Francis J. Hertkorn, rector of Old Holy Trinity German Catholic Church, for the celebration of the 125th anniversary of the church, which comes on November 22. The church building, which is of unique architecture, is the oldest Catholic church edifice in the city.

The celebration is to begin on the morning of November 22 with a Solemn-Official Mass, which will be sung by Bishop McCort, with Archbishop Prendergast presiding. The Rev. Henry Stommel, rector of St. Alphonsus' Catholic Church, will preach anniversary sermon. It is said that Longfellow was inspired to write his epic poem as he walked down Spruce street past the Pennsylvania Hospital and lingered by the side of the little graveyard at Holy Trinity for a brief rest.

Painters and artists are busily engaged in improving the appearance of the massive old church, and as he walked down on Spruce street, in anticipation of the observance. It is expected that thousands of persons will attend the exercises. CHURCHES UNITE FOR BOOM OF 13TH WARD

Presbyterians and Methodists Join With Episcopalians in Improving Conditions.

An organization has been formed by ten churches of several denominations in the 13th Ward for the purpose of generally improving civic and religious conditions in that section of the city. The plan, which culminated in the extensive campaign for the betterment of the ward, was started in the George C. Thomas Association of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Apostles. A mass-meeting of the members and friends of the ten churches represented in the movement will be held on Monday evening in Cooper Hall, 23d and Christian streets, when prominent speakers will make addresses. Some definite action will probably be taken at that time for the advancement of the campaign. It is hoped to bring to the attention of the public authorities of the ward as a section that desirable classes of citizens would wish to dwell in.

LECTURES ON WAR CLOSE FOR ANNUAL BIBLE CONFERENCE

Meetings in 14 Churches Will Mark Opening of Sessions Continuing Until November 21.

Meetings in 14 churches in this city and vicinity tomorrow will mark the opening of the second annual Philadelphia Bible Conference and the close of the series of free Sunday afternoon lectures on "The Present War in the Light of Prophecy," which have been in progress here the last seven weeks.

Visiting clergymen from all parts of the United States and Canada who are to participate in the conference next week will be the speakers at the last services of the series. The prevailing theme will be "What the War May Mean and What It Does Not Mean From a Biblical Standpoint."

Both the war lectures and the Bible conference emanate from the Philadelphia School of the Bible, 1730 Arch street, which was the outcome of the first Philadelphia Bible Conference last autumn. The lectures were arranged for the purpose of correcting erroneous beliefs entertained by many people regarding the Scriptural aspect of the present European war.

Among the prominent speakers to be heard during the conference, which is to continue until Saturday, November 21, are the following:

- Dr. C. I. Scofield, president of the Philadelphia School of the Bible and well-known author, of New York; the Rev. E. W. Philpott, Hamilton, Ontario; the Rev. Lewis Sperry Chafer, Northfield, Mass.; the Rev. George L. Aitch, Easton; the Rev. R. V. Miller, Spartanburg, S. C.; the Rev. E. W. Gossell, Chicago; Dr. Charles Blanchard, Wheaton Ill.; Robert McMurdo, Chicago; Dr. Max Wertheimer, Ada, O.; the Rev. George Pentecost, Darien, Conn.; the Rev. Harris H. Gregg, St. Louis, Mo.; and the Rev. George E. Gullie, Chicago.

The last of the lectures on "The Present War in the Light of Prophecy" will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow, in the following churches: Third Baptist, Broad and Ritter streets; the Rev. William L. Pettin-gill speaker; Spring Garden Street Methodist Episcopal, the Rev. Max Wertheimer speaker; Bethelam Presbyterian, the Rev. L. W. Gossell speaker; First Baptist of Germantown, Dr. C. I. Scofield, speaker; Fourth Reformed Manayunk, the Rev. H. V. Miller, and Centenary Methodist Episcopal, Camden, N. J., the Rev. George F. Pentecost, speaker.

At the Norris Square United Presbyterian Church the pastor, the Rev. Lee B. Rife, will preach tomorrow morning on "Assurance," and in the evening on "Characteristics of the Holy Spirit." The latter subject will be the first of a series on the reign of sin.

At the Church of the Redeemer, the Rev. August E. Barnett will preach tomorrow morning on "Can We Be Sure of God?" in the evening his subject is to be "Savannah," the glorious Outcast will be music by a large chorus choir. Dr. J.
